

UW HILLEL SHABBAT SPONSORSHIP-Keeping Shabbat Meals Free for UW's Jewish Students

The Hillel Shabbat Experience forms the cornerstone of what brings Jewish students together at the University of Wisconsin. Each week, Hillel sees as many as 150 students come together for services and dinner. We know from our experience that we can see as much as a 50% increase in student participation when we are able to offer Shabbat dinner free of charge. It is our goal this year to remove all barriers to students to join in this weekly celebration.

A Hillel Shabbat is unique in the Jewish world today. Students lead each other in Kabbalat Shabbat services in three minyanim: Conservative, Reform and Traditional. They develop confidence in their leadership and learn from one another. Following these spirit-filled services, all the students come together for a kosher dinner prepared by Hillel's staff chef.

Students find that the Friday night meal at Hillel is a significant time to build campus community, make this sprawling campus more intimate, and find friendships that may last a lifetime. Even students who don't come to campus looking to make Shabbat a regular event find that the camaraderie, meal and socializing of Hillel's Friday nights a great alternative to sitting in their dorm rooms on a Friday night!

This year it will cost UW Hillel $30-35,000 to provide Shabbat Dinners each week. To underwrite a Hillel Shabbat and make this experience attractive to even more students, we ask for a donation of $1,000.
